BUELOS AYRES, Aug. 24.—The Argentine steamer Colombia, carrying passengers from Buenos Ayres to the festival at Montevideo and a German steamer also engaged in the local trade, collided at the entrance of Montevideo harbor today. Between 150 and 200 persons, mostly women and children, were drowned.

The German steamer sank almost immediately after the collision and only the captain and a few of the passengers were saved. The captain had to be restrained from committing suicide.

CITY UNDER DISCUSSION

Dalton and Chief Deputy Defend Figures Made in Assessor's Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The State Board of Equalization met this morning and examined F. N. Dalton and Tom Stoddard regarding valuation of real estate in Alameda as compared with the valuation given the same property by the experts of the board.

At the instance of County Assessor Dalton, the public valuation of properties in both Alameda and Berkeley, fixed by representative citizens of those municipalities, was filed with the board and will be compared with the estimates of the experts of the board.

Experts Named

It developed that the experts appointed by the board for Alameda county were F. J. Woodward, George W. Austin and R. C. Trobridge; P. Mortimer, however, acting instead of Austin in considering the value of Berkeley. At the instance of County Assessor Dalton, it was determined that all of these experts should be present at this afternoon's meeting, the only one of them present this morning being Woodward. This afternoon valuation for Oakland property will be discussed.

Protest Increase

Representative citizens of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda appeared before the board this morning in the Supervisors' chambers on Eddy near Powell street, for the purpose of showing that the assessment of Alameda county made by County Assessor Dalton should not be raised. The representation appeared in response to a statement by the Supervisors of Alameda county to show cause why the assessments should not be raised to fifty per cent of the real value of the same, which was issued by the State Board of Equalization. Thirty-one of the fifty-eight counties in the State having been similarly cited for similar purposes.

The last total assessment of Alameda county by Assessor Dalton, which was under consideration amounted to $137,000. This was segregated as follows: Real estate, $106,403.32; Improvements, $1,461.55; personal property, $21,945.32.

Dalton's Figures

These figures County Assessor Dalton and his deputy, Tom Robinson, said represented a little above 60 per cent of the real valuation of the property, that percent being the minimum valuation with which it was understood the State

Rivers and Harbors Committee Members Pledge Support for Appropriation

THINK OURS WILL BE BEST PORT ON COAST

Visitors Surprised. Say Oakland is Deserving of Big Fund for Great Harbor

Support of a liberal appropriation for the improvement of Oakland Harbor was pledged yesterday by Senator Perkins and Congressman Knowland by four members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the National House of Representatives.

Incidental to the pledging of support for money which will put Oakland in the front rank as a Pacific Coast harbor, the four members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee declared that they were so favorably impressed with Oakland that they were sure, with proper shipping facilities, this city would take first rank in the nation.

The pledging of support for an appropriation for improvements was given during the trip yesterday afternoon, when the committee visited points of interest on their way to the entrance of the Oakland harbor and attention was called to the fact that the harbor was of sufficient importance to be considered for an appropriation.

Congressman Knowland, Senator Perkins and Lieut.-Col. H. Riddle, in charge of the government survey work, met with the committee members together before the boat reached the end of the mole. With maps and plates showing the survey work already done, the four gifts of Oakland as a harbor were explained.

The four committee members, who are Representatives Olin H. Young of Michigan, Harry W. Collier of New York, William H. Rodenberg of Illinois and Benjamin J. Humphreys of Mississippi, expressed Oakland's surprise that when an appropriation was asked for in the House of Representatives they would not only vote favorably upon it, but would urge other members to support the appropriation.

To the work of the two California sol-lions due the pledges of the Rivers and Harbors committee members. Both Senator Perkins and Congressman Knowland made the juketing party at Benicia Sunday night and at that time made preliminary arrangements for the viewing of Oakland harbor.

A stop at the foot of the Oakland mole was arranged for yesterday with the boat which conducted the juketing party about the bay. After the boat had visited Mare Island she headed for the entrance to the Oakland harbor and immediately the four committee members. Colonel Riddle was on hand with maps and other paraphernalia to explain what progress had been made in the survey work.

HENRY H. WEBB VISITS OAKLAND

Manages Group of Mines in South Africa Which Produces Millions

Henry H. Webb, one of the group of Californians who have played leading parts in the development of gold mining in South Africa, is again visiting relatives and friends in Oakland. He was for merly a resident of this city, studied at the old Braxton College and graduated as a mining engineer from the University of California.

Mr. Webb is now manager of the group of mines at Johannesburg that John Hays Hammond formerly superintended. This is the largest gold producing group of mines in the world, the output running over $100,000,000 annually. About two-thirds of the gold produced from the Rand is taken from the mines managed by Mr. Webb. Another great gold producing property on the Rand is managed by William Melin, another Oakland boy.

Mr. Webb is a brother-in-law of Alfred Von der Ropp, who has returned from Europe under engagement as consulting mining engineer for a big syndicate operating on both sides of the Atlantic. He is staying at the Key Route Inn.

CORONER'S JURY FINDS VERDICT OF MURDER

BPD BLUFF, Aug. 24.—A coroner's jury which investigated the death of John McIntosh, who was beaten to death in the jail here last Sunday, early today returned a verdict accusing John Lowery, one of the men who beat McIntosh. The evidence indicated, according to the jury, Lowery killed McIntosh with repeated blows from a shoe and that Lowery also beat and seriously injured Jerry Desmond,
the third prisoner in the cell.

Cramps and Dysentery

Diarrhoea, cholera morbus, stomach ache, congestion, sunstroke, heart failure, fainting, weak stomach, malaria, chills, fever, prostration and the hundred and one ills of summer can be prevented and cured by taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

It kills the disease germs, invigorates and strengthens every organ and part of the human body. Absolutely pure. Fifty years' reputation.

CURED DIARRHOEA

"I wish to let you know how much good Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done me. Four years ago I had a severe attack of Diarrhoea. I did not attend to it until it got so bad I had to quit work. The doctor put me on special diet. I got worse and was so weak I could scarcely walk. I used 'Blackberry Brandy' with no results. I then took Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began to improve at once, and after taking three bottles I was cured. Now whenever I need something to help me I take a dose of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey at night, and in the morning I feel all right. I use it as preventive to colds and coughs, as I am exposed to all sorts of weather. I write you that others may know of this wonderful remedy." William Tegge, 77
Bloomfield St., Hoboken, N. J."

It is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus producing a liquid food requiring no digestion in the form of a pharmaceutical whiskey, which is one of the most effective tonic
stimulants and invigorators known to science; its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Thousands of leading doctors prescribe it, and prominent hospitals use and endorse it, exclusively,
as the most valuable invigorating tonic stimulant
known to medicine.

If weak and run down, take a teaspoonful four times a day in half a glass of milk or water.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold everywhere by druggists, grocers and dealers, or shipped order for $1.00 a bottle.

One Consulting Physician will send to every reader of Oakland Tribune advice and an interesting illustrated medical booklet
free of charge. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester,

FOOD EXPERTS IN HOT TILT OVER NEW LAWS

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson Denounced by President Emery of Association

USE OF BENZOATE OF SODA
BRINGS ABOUT TROUBLE

Federal Official in Lively Word
War When Adjournment
is Taken

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 24.—Food experts from every section of the country, including Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson, chief Chemist H. W. Wiley and representatives of the United States Dairymen's Commission and the Bureau of Animal Industry were present at the opening today of the thirtieth annual convention of the Association of State and National Food and Drug Departments. Before the convention adjourned next Friday it is expected a definite plan for more drastic enforcement of pure food regulations throughout the country will have been drafted.

Raps Benzoate of Soda

In his annual address President Emery took a hard rap at benzoate of soda as a food preservative and vigorously opposed the finding of the President Roosevelt's administration that the preservative was not harmful. He pointed to Secretary Wilson as having recommended to the President that the finding of the board be not reinvestigated, although a committee of the association appealed for a reconsideration of the subject. That benzoate is harmful in whatever form it is used, whether in soda water or in pickles, was the emphatic conclusion of the speaker.

Denounces Laws

Recommending a breaking away from the Federal pure food laws as not meeting the necessities of the individual States, Emery urged a wide breach between the State Commissioners and Secretary Wilson. He favored the submission to each State legislature the "model" pure food law as proposed by Dr. E. F. Ladd, State Food Commissioner of North Dakota. No sooner had these views been expressed than a dozen other speakers contended that a breaking away from the Federal laws would result in a chaotic multiplicity of State laws all out of harmony with one another.

Wilson Replies

"I want to say that the Remsen board was composed of Dr. Ira Remsen of Baltimore and four others of the foremost chemists in the world," declared Wilson, "and when the President said he wanted me to select them, I informed him that the best authority on benzoate that could be procured I am glad to see you have in the members of that board to appear before you next Thursday's session of this convention. I trust that you will give them a fair hearing."

As to the ability of the members of that board I wish to say that I wish we had the money to procure them for the department of agriculture at Washington."

Emery Waxes Wrath

No sooner had Mr. Wilson sat down than Mr. Emery again jumped to his feet.

"This insinuation from the secretary comes with poor grace," he said. "Why should we not give them a fair hearing? This insinuation is with poor grace, I say, when we remember that the secretary blocked our appeal to the President to have the government reinvestigate the benzoate subject."

"What do you mean by that?" asked Wilson.

"Well, I have your letter in my pocket," retorted Emery. "It is your recommendation that our request be not granted."

"Will you allow me a word?" interposed the secretary. "If you will recollect, you gentlemen just prior to that time at your convention at Mackinac had condemned our entire department at Washington, and I did not think you were the proper material to make a supreme court of."

On motion of Arthur Briggs of San Francisco further debate was interrupted by adjournment.

Gets to Committee

It was determined that the whole subject should get threshed out and reported on by a special committee. On this committee are Dr. Ladd, Dr. M. A. Stevall, Lexington, Ky.; James Foust of Pittsburgh, Pa., Dr. W. D. Bigelow, Bureau of Chemistry, Washington, D. C.; A. C. Bird, Lansing, Mich.; R. A. Pearson, Albany, N. Y., and R. M. Allen, Lexington, Ky.

Discussions Numerous

More than 100 addresses are to be made before the convention closes. Dr. Wiley is to discuss "Bread and Flour," and other subjects range from "What is Whiskey?" to "How to Keep Oysters Fresh Without Preservatives."

On the other hand are to speak followed by an answer to their contentions by State food chemists, who are opposed to benzoate.

Atlanta, Ga., and Rochester, N. Y., are in the field for the next convention.

Insurance Commissioners

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 24.—The forty-first annual national convention of insurance commissioners opened in this city this morning with 450 delegates, representing practically all of the states in attendance.

President E. F. Crouse, of Maryland, introduced Gov.-Gen. John F. Shafroth of Colorado, who delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by Fred W. Potter, of Illinois, vice-president of the convention.

The feature of the morning session was the address of President Crouse, who said in part:

"The insurance business should bear its fair and proper share of governmental expenses but should not be burdened with heavy and excessive taxes simply because it can be done by holding and covering them up in the government, paid by patriotic holders or by reducing dividends which otherwise would be largely increased."

Urge Reduced Tax

If the people who do the voting are still deceived that those who pay insurance premiums are having excessive taxation on their savings, some relief will be

WESTERN ROADS ARE GRANTED STAY

Interstate Commerce Commission Enjoined in Missouri
Rate Case

PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION
ALSO IN DENVER SUIT

Decision If Sustained Will Limit Powers in Settlement of Cases

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The permanent injunction sought by western railroads against the Interstate Commerce Commission in the famous Missouri rate case was upheld yesterday by judges Grosscup, Joliet, and Koford, of the United States Circuit Court.

By denying the permanent injunction sought by western railroads against the Interstate Commerce Commission in the famous Missouri rate case, the court also granted a preliminary injunction in the Denver rate case, which is based on similar principles as the Missouri river case. The Denver case, involving suits to Denver instead of the Missouri river points, is still pending, and decision on it remains pending by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Commission's Defeat

Judge Grosscup delivered the opinion of the court. Judge Kohlstedt concurring, while Judge Baker delivered a dissenting opinion.

The commission, thus defeated in its first attempt to bring about what is alleged to be a new system, or principle of rate making will, it is asserted, carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Todays' decision, if sustained, will, it is said, limit the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the settlement of cases of rate discrimination.

ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW IS URGED

Members of W. C. T. U. Want
Berkeley to Be Smokeless
Town for Boys

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—The proposition to place an anti-cigarette ordinance upon the statute books of this city was considered by the City Council at its regular meeting this morning. The proposed ordinance was presented by Mrs. M. E. Thomas, president of the W. C. T. U. In presenting the proposed cigarette ordinance Mrs. Thomas said that she voiced the sentiment of the W. C. T. U. and the mothers of the city. She said that the object of the proposed law was to protect the boys.

"We want the morals of our boys protected and upheld to the same high standard of the girls," she said. "If the State law were enforced this would help us considerably, but we want Berkeley to act for itself in this matter and have it said that Berkeley can protect its own, think we can regulate the sale and use of it the men had disappeared."

Hopes to Reach College

"We want the law to reach those of the age of 18. We hope to have it touch those of 21 at some future date, and in fact hope the day is not far distant when the boys at the University will no longer use the pipe and cigar."

The matter was referred to the committee of the whole, and it is said that it will be brought up again at the next session of the Council, when action of some kind will be taken.

A petition from the Federation of Mothers' Clubs asking that a woman member be appointed to a place on the Board of Health and another one on the library board was referred to the committee of the whole. The petition merely called the Council's attention to the importance of having a woman on the two boards and asked favorable consideration.

"What do you mean by that?" asked Wilson.

"Well, I have your letter in my pocket," retorted Emery. "It is your recommendation that our request be not granted."

"Will you allow me a word?" interposed the secretary. "If you will recollect, you gentlemen just prior to that time at your convention at Mackinac had condemned our entire department at Washington, and I did not think you were the proper material to make a supreme court of."

Smothered in the folds of a heavy cloak thrown over her head and with the pungent odor of chloroform in her nostrils, Mrs. May Carney, girl wife of A. C. Carney and niece of former Governor Stimson of Alaska, was resting at the New York Central last night after a desperate battle with two masked men who, after following her for several blocks along Castro street, assaulted her at the corner of Twelfth and endeavored to force her into a waiting cab. Police Officer Jordan, patrolling the beat, heard the woman's frenzied screams for help and ran to the scene, where he caught a glimpse of one of the unknown men as he ran around the corner. The other had disappeared.

Accuses Husband

Mrs. Carney, brown-eyed, brown-haired and twenty, with a pretty girlish figure and a charming Southern accent, accuses her husband, who, she says, she left over a year ago because of his complicity in the attempted kidnapping, of trying to discredit her filling suit for divorce, given by the young wife as the reason for the attempted abduction.

MRS. PATERSON RENEWS FIGHT ON HUSBAND

Files Another Affidavit in Support of Her Plea for Divorce

Hires Two Lawyers Instead of One

Repeats Old Charges and Adds Some New Ones in Latest Document

Ellie G. Paterson, whose suit for a divorce from Dr. E. M. Paterson, the well-known East Oakland physician, has been productive of some of the most voluminous and extraordinary legal documents in the history of the Superior Court of Alameda county, has substituted Messrs. Keegan & Memberall of Oakland for Messrs. Keegan & Adams, her attorneys, and with the chance of a耦合 comes renewed effort in the suit.

Not that Kinney did not earn his money while he was conducting the case. His complaint alone is a twelve-page typewritten document and then there are two more pages of affidavits which add up to more voluminous and form than affidavits and a veritable maze of other papers to bolster up Mrs. Paterson's ac-

Takes Attack Calmly

In spite of it all, however, defendant

now has not been drawn into the various charges and counter-charges. Paterson to discover what on earth he may have up his sleeve or to what limit he intends to fight the case. Regardless of the fact that he has filed his original complaint in November of last year, and has bombarded the defense at frequent intervals ever since with vitriolic verbal ammunition in amazing quantity, Paterson has never uttered a word in simply filling demands and a few other minor papers. He has not deigned to answer one of the allegations made against him and has not even denied Paterson's out of sheer despair of never being able to draw the fire of his hitherto bittered but changed legal adviser to see if it would not be better to let the spell that his spouse's persistent silence has cast over the proceedings and almost caused them to pull upon her hands.

Mrs. Paterson's latest affidavit contains a series of charges against her husband that are about as sensational as the fertile mind of an experienced and talented lawyer could possibly contrive into one document, and the so-called amended complaints and several affidavits subsequently filed by Attorney Kinney are just as tame and flat as the lawn that the lawn might have appeared after a perusal of these documents that they were complete in themselves and could not be improved but it had been left to the new attorney to add a few ill-founded delusions to the winds, for Messrs. Langan & Memberall have just filed their amended complaint for Mrs. Paterson that simply "knocks the spots" off everything that has been attempted before.

New Charges Made

In this complaint Mrs. Paterson not only reiterates all of the charges she previously made against her husband but brings to the surface other alleged cruelties of as grave if not more serious nature than have yet been presented in the case. Among other things she alleges that on one occasion the doctor told her she was like a sucking calf and cow because she called on a lady who had been weak and indistinct and that she lied and knew she had when she denied that she was in the habit of talking with men that he did not know.

With reference to men, Dr. Paterson told his wife, Mrs. Paterson alleges, that she could not walk around the block without talking to Tom, Dick and Harry; that she would rather be a good fellow with every one but her own husband, and that the more libertines he gave her the more she took.

Quarrel Over Vest

One day the doctor asked his wife to replace his vest pocket and Mrs. Paterson charges that when he found it was not repaired at the time he expected he told her not to touch a needle to it, for he would not wear it if she did. Despite this she repaired the pocket but the doctor compelled her she declares, to rip the stitches out and remarked that that was to teach her that she had to mind what he said.

In September, 1908, the document sets forth Dr. Paterson told his wife that she was a wanton, that he was ashamed to be seen in public with her until she proved that she could keep from talking with him in his treatment of his wife, the doctor told his spouse, Mrs. Paterson alleges, that his mother-in-law ought to be kicked downstairs.

When the baby, whose custody Mrs. Paterson is seeking, could not sleep at night, plaintiff says that her husband remarked it was impossible for anybody to sleep in the atmosphere which surrounded her. This statement led to a merry jingle between the couple during the course of which Paterson is charged with having said that every woman was after money and that the only difference between Mrs. Paterson and other women was that she would "gad" without clothes and the others would not.

MISSING MAN SAYS
MEMORY WAS LOST

SAN JOSE, Aug. 24.—After an absence of the week, Walter West, the young parson who disappeared mysteriously from San Jose two months ago, returned to San Jose late last night, and was joyfully received by his young wife.

West maintains that he suffered a lapse of memory and cannot account for his movements from the day he bade his wife goodbye and drove to his garage until he recovered his mind in the railroad hospital at Houston. Then he discovered that he was lost in the hills near Houston. August 18, in which five people lost their lives and fifty others were injured.

After leaving the hospital he telegraphed to friends for money and went to Chicago and later visited Detroit. He says that his friends were fully aware of his movements after he left the hospital.

WILL TRY TO FLY OVER
SAN FRANCISCO BAY

Charles Stanley, the flying machine inventor, whose last aircraft was destroyed by fire, has now built another and is about to enter his name at 1004 Hampshire street, a little before 2 o'clock this morning. Dennis Burke was beaten and robbed by three highwaymen. The robbers, rushing from a place of concealment, surrounded their victim before he could make an outcry, placed a revolver at his head, and after stealing his gold watch and chain, beat him and threw him to the ground.

The trio then made their escape in the darkness and Burke was unable to give a very clear description of them. One was exceedingly tall, and the other two were of medium height.

'THEATER NIGHT' IS BIG SUCCESS

Athens Parlor Event at Orpheum Draws 2000 Native Sons and Daughters

More than two thousand Native Sons and Native Daughters helped fill the Orpheum Theatre last night at the annual theater party given under the auspices of the Athens Parlor. Delegations from every parlor in Alameda county were in evidence and the affair, regarded as a yearly social function, was a success in every way.

Congressman J. R. Knowland, head of the order of Native Sons, made a brief address during the intermission. Governor Gillett who was expected to attend the theater party was unable to leave Europa. He, however, sent a letter expressing his regrets.

"This is the first time I have appeared in vaudeville," declared Congressman Knowland during his brief speech. "However, I take more glory from getting up here and trying to grace a California vaudeville stage in front of such a crowd of Native Sons and Native Daughters, than I did in going to Washington to represent my congressional district and swindling over tariff discussions while the thermometer registered 106."

Congressman Knowland spoke upon the growth of the order and projects which were contemplated. He also elaborated upon the fact that the Native Sons was the only order of the kind in the world where membership is product of one's state.

The City Council last night directed City Attorney Stetson to proceed with the opening of First street, which was dedicated to the city more than forty years but which has never been actually used.

The action of the City Council was taken after City Attorney Stetson had read an opinion in which he expressed the view that the title of the city was none too good to the property in dispute and that there was a question as to whether it was brought that the city might lose whatever rights it had already acquired in the street.

In making his report Stetson said, "I have run down all of the records that exist, so far as I have been able to ascertain, and the opinion I give is based on the data I obtained, as meager as that was."

Deeded to City

"I find that there was a deed made to the Western Pacific now the Southern Pacific Railroad, and to the city of Oakland in 1869 by John C. Hayes, Edison Adams, A. H. Hayne, John Coperton, S. C. Carpenter and others. This deed is to the property that would lie beyond the portion of First street in a straight line easterly from its present terminus."

"The first question raised is whether the property in the deed is described with sufficient exactness to identify it. I looked over all of the maps both in the county recorder's office and in the offices of the city engineer and there is a question as to the property intended to be dedicated to the city as described accurately. Parole evidence would have to be introduced to make this point clear.

May Lose Much

"Looking at the question from its legal effect, there may be some question as to the propriety of going ahead with the suit inasmuch as the city may lose whatever rights it has now if the suit is decided adversely to the claim of the city."

"According to the decision of the Supreme Court the dedication of a street such as First street is in the nature of a trust. The title of Oakland has not fulfilled her trust in so far as the person now occupying the land were squatters purely and simply."

Wishes to Bring Suit

"The corporation I represent," said Leach, "inasted $500,000 in Oakland's waterfront and is now asking that they be allowed to get to their property not over land privately owned but over a public street that has been a public street for more than forty years. We merely ask the privilege of bringing suit and out those who are holding the land unlawfully."

The court replied that he could not consider the matter for a moment and stated that he was thoroughly familiar with the case. The jury had recommended mercy in connection with their verdict of manslaughter, but this was not taken into consideration by Judge Dunn, and he imposed the maximum sentence. The defendant's counsel filed a notice of appeal from the judgment:

BIG ORDERS FOR ROLLING STOCKS

Various Railroads Place Orders Which Will Aggregate $175,000,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Since January, it is learned, orders have been given by various railroads, express and dispatch companies for from $160,000,000 to $175,000,000 worth of rolling stock.

Many plants that several months ago were running on half time are today operating to their full capacity, and thousands of men who were out of work six months ago have steady employment.

The principal orders have come from New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Hill Lines, the Chicago & Northwestern, and the Gould roads, and from the United States Steel Corporation and other great industries using railroad equipment.

Among the complainants against her are Mrs. Emma Lutz and Mrs. Dorothy Lutz. The former tells a sad story of her dealings with Miss Nelson, whom she has known since 1902. She was extremely ill with tumor and needed a change of air. Miss Nelson told her that if she would let her have some money so that she could secure her inheritance she would give her $1,000,000 and the trusting woman acceded to the request.

Buying a Piano From Us This Week Means You Save From $150 to $225

PIANOS THAT SELL FROM $375 TO $450 AT $237

$10 Cash and $6 Per Month

Store at 557-559 Twelfth Street, Opposite Orpheum Theater

--Open Evenings Until 9

If economy appeals to you and your men, a piano class now is the opportunity for you to make a purchase. People bought pianos from us last week who had not expected to buy for a year. If you buy now it means a saving on the purchase price of a piano of from $150 to $225. This is not an offer to purchase a piano if you ever intend to buy. Such piano quality as we are now offering for the price has never been known in history. This is not an exaggeration but an actual fact. Call at our ware rooms and convince yourself. There is certainly no excuse for your being without a piano. Write or wire me and a man, husband or father that earns $2500 a month can take advantage of the sale we are now holding. For instance you can have a piano that in itself would cost you from $200 to $400 at the price of $237. This delivers the piano in your home with stool and then all you pay is $10 cash and the balance in easy monthly payments as low as $6 a month if you wish.

TWENTY CENTS A DAY

Stop and consider that you have probably promised yourself that you would have a piano in your home when you were able to afford it. Spend out of your income you can spend 20¢ a day and while you are paying you get the use of the instrument. It means that by laying aside 20¢ a day from your earnings you not only are making an investment that your whole family will profit by, but that you are supplying your home with a piano which no home is complete without. In addition to this we wish to strongly impress upon you that you can buy now your save from one third to one half the purchase price of a piano.

SCORES OF HAPPY HOMES

Last week scores of homes were made happy by us and there is also little reason now why every home should not have a piano. We have in

PUT OVER ACTION ON FRANCHISE

City Councilmen Postpone Hearing Key Route Application for Use of Waterfront

The application of the Oakland Terminal and Wharf company and the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railroad company for a franchise for 1000 feet of water front along the western shore between the Key Route pier and the Southern Pacific mole, was not considered by the City Council last night, although it came up regularly for hearing. The individual members of the Council stated that they wished to know what was going to be done for the city first along the western water front before the question of permitting private corporations to occupy the water front was decided.

The question of the bond issue was raised by Councilman Elliot, who stated that there was to be a provision made for the water front and that it would be well to ascertain just what those provisions were.

CITY FIRST, THEY AGREE

Councilman Stetwater stated that the city's interests should be served first and that the corporations could be taken care of afterward.

Councilman Ellsworth stated that it was a question of the private corporations assisting the city and the city asisting the corporations in the matter of development.

Attorney Engs representing the two corporations asking for fifty year franchises agreed with the councilmen that the city should be considered first and that the wants should be made known to the companies he represents could be considered.

Every one being satisfied that question was continued two weeks. In the meantime the board of works will have completed its plans for the bond issue and will be ready to submit a definite proposition to the Council.

SAW PINCUS' GUN AT HIS SIDE

Maxwell Declares Bodyguard Took Revolver to Make it Worse for Him

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 24 — The list of witnesses who saw Edward Pincus, revolver living on the sidewalk at the time he was shot on Market street by William Maxwell, the local official of the City Electric Company now numbers four and further evidence has been brought to the accused man showing that his enemy was after him on the day of the shooting.

William Mueller, a contractor engaged in erecting the new Fredo Dog on Mason street, called upon Maxwell at his residence last night and stated positively that he had seen the gun. Earlier in the morning Frank Gau, a clerk for the Crown Drug Company, 954 Market street had made a similar assertion.

After Maxwell

More convincing evidence however that this is being investigated by Maxwell who has received information that Pincus together with his bodyguard was looking for him and standing outside the offices of the Electric Company. The afternoon of the killing, believing him to be inside. It is said that Pincus sent his guard to the office to find out if Maxwell was there and receiving a negative reply went directly to Market street where he later encountered his enemy.

A local tailor whose name the police expect to get today is looked upon to testify that Pincus called at his shop to have a suit of clothes tried on and placed a revolver on the table during the process.

Accuses Bodyguard

"I believe the bodyguard spirited away the weapon," said Maxwell this morning. "Pincus never went alone. He was afraid, and I think that after he was shot his companion deliberately took the weapon so as to make it look worse for me."

The accused man has received numerous letters of encouragement from all over the State. One especially cheering missive came from J. H. Curley, a drummer who informed him that the gossip in Los Angeles was all against Pincus and that passengers on the train coming up had said that it was the custom of the defense to suppress their appreciation of the fact that some one had had courage enough to put him out of the way.

Maxwell is bearing up well under the strain of imprisonment and is eagerly looking forward to the coroner's inquest which will be held at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

POLICE CAPTAIN'S VICTIM IS DYING

Physicians in Attendance on Lagan Have Little Hope for Recovery

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 24 — Bernard Lagan, the young Mission business man who was shot by Captain of Police Michael Joseph Conroy some time ago is reported to be in an enfeebled condition at his Haight street home and liable to succumb at any time. Two of the three physicians who have been attending him and watching carefully his progress through the stages of paralysis following his fall from the first shock of the bullet have given up hope. The third physician in attendance Dr. Hugh Lagan, an uncle refuses to abandon hope but relatives have noticed the police to have the officer on the beat make frequent inquiries at the house so as to be ready to take a dying statement in case of an emergency. It is asserted that the young man is now although not suffering so much pain as formerly in a weakened condition and that his small reserve force of strength is gradually ebbing away.

In the event that it should be seen that he was dying it would be necessary to take a statement to be used against this assailant. It is understood that Captain Conroy has been apprised of the fact that there is but little hope for the victim whom he shot down while he was in a condition of intoxication and that he is preparing his defense. He has been trusting for some time that Lagan would live at least a year so as to absolve him from the crime of murder but no one save Dr. Hugh Lagan now believes this is possible.

Celestial Found in Pool of Blood--Police Hunt for Assailant

SAN FRANCISCO Aug 24 — Wong, a Chinese cook, residing at 110 Stockton street was found lying in a pool of blood in an unconscious condition in a dark alley near Pacific and Grant avenue at 3 o'clock this morning. He had evidently been struck on the head repeatedly by an assailant and nothing could be gotten from him as to what had caused the assault. After he had been removed to the Harbor Emergency hospital and his injuries had been dressed he informed the surgeon on duty that he was beaten by an unknown man who came up behind him as he was on his way to his home. The police are working on the case.

BAD MAN OUT TO MURDER IS SLAIN

"Gun Play" Maxwell, Notorious Character, is Killed by Utah Sheriff

PRICE, Utah Aug 21 — On the public square Ed Johnson, deputy sheriff shot and killed "Gun Play" Maxwell yesterday afternoon.

The deputy sheriff arrested Maxwell three years ago during the strike trouble at Goldfield and Maxwell had sworn to get his life. He went to Price yesterday to kill Johnson and shot at him first and missed. He was hospitalized at the time. The body will be shipped to Salt Lake City for burial.

Maxwell had many aliases among them being L. Ottis Bills, L. C. Bliss, C. W. and W. H. Seaman. He was last known to be in the Woods of California. Maxwell was as far back as twenty five years ago he was heard of as a bad man in Wyoming.

ROBBED HIS BRIDE

Maxwell married Ada Shaw at Vernal twelve years ago. In 1907 Maxwell found his former wife in New York and through a notorious thief E. R. Burke, alias Boeke, a fugitive from New York, managed to work himself into the good graces of Mrs. Dodge, the divorced wife of the assassin of Sen. Francis G. Trapp. When he was introduced to Mrs. Dodge, Hume widow of a rich mining man of Salt Lake, he married under the name of C. W. Seaman. In their honeymoon they stopped at Reno, Nev., where he was joined by Burke and more than $10,000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones belonging to his new wife disappeared later. $900 worth of the jewels were located in diamond bracelets and in pawnshops of San Francisco.

Couple Make Up

Later Maxwell went to Rawhide after getting his wife, and when there arrested and indicted for grand larceny for holding up and robbing a stagecoach, he tried but escaped as it was impossible to identify him. At that time Ed Johnson, the man who killed him today, was active in his prosecution.

Later Maxwell and Mrs. Hume made up again and returned to the States, coming to San Francisco, where he was received as a hero. They were married again in the same day at Oakland. This is the second time there is no possibility that the President will give this any more time.

While the former executives of the President's party are trying to keep him from traveling, his private car being intended to the locomotive.

This is because that re-entrapment of $25,000 for Taft's traveling expenses was not included in his California trip, but also several important trips in the East and the hiring of special trains would exceed the apprivalation.

Stops in California

Congressman Needham outlined the President's full trip as follows:

Starting from Beverly Hills, September 1, the party will stop at all the major cities in California, including San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, San Jose, Sacramento, and finally reach the Alaskan exposition.

Coming south by way of Portland the party will arrive at Sacramento Monday, October 4, and after a short stop in the capital, the run will be made to Oakland early Tuesday morning so that the entire forenoon may be spent in that city.

Spending Tuesday afternoon and evening in San Francisco, the presidential party will leave for the San Joaquin valley Wednesday.

Southern Pacific officials announced that arrangements for the party's stops will be made whereby a stop of not exceeding fifteen minutes can be made in each county seat.

President Taft will meet the people of Modesto and Merced from his car platform stopping at the former place at 1:30 p.m. and at the latter at 1:45 p.m.

From Merced the party goes into Yosco, its winter residence there three days.

Party, a Small One

As Taft desires this to be a period of rest the party accompanying him will be a small one. It will probably consist of Senator Dillingham of Vermont, Congressman Chapman, military aides Secretary Carpenter, several score men and representatives of the press.

A stop of three hours will be made at Fresno the party arriving at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, October 5, and returning the same evening. The run will be made direct to Bakersfield, the home city of Congressman S. C. Shantz, after a short stop there the party will continue to San Francisco. Needham goes to Fresno today to arrange the local program with the Fresno committee.

EXCURSION TO UKIAH

The Northwestern Pacific Railroad Company announces that it will run an excursion to Ukiah on Sunday, August 29. This is California's most popular excursion. Everyone is sure of a seat as no more tickets are sold than there are seats provided.

Owing to this precaution it is a most comfortable ride. Passing through the various valleys and skirting the Russian River for forty six miles a constant change of scene is experienced. There will be over four hours in Ukiah during which time visits can be made to Vichy Springs, Fish Hatchery and the Asylum.

Rate is only $2.50 for the round trip and leaving time from San Francisco is 8:15 a.m. and from Ukiah on the return 4:45 p.m. Tickets may be secured at Ferry office or at the up-town ticket office of the Flood building.

ASSESSMENTS ON BANKS DECLARED TOO LOW

It is said that only a short while ago an assessment of 35¢ a share was levied on the same shares.

Priest Quotes Scripture To Show That Women Should Wear Hats in Church

WHAT WOMEN ARE DOING

Dr. Mary M. Crawford recently has been made house surgeon at the Williamsburg hospital in Brooklyn. Dr. Crawford is only 25. She is a graduate of Cornell.

Mrs. Emma Maddox Funch, president of the Woman's Suffrage Association of Maryland, says that only nine out of fifty states have legislation favoring working women at all, and in more of them it is in favor of girls under 18, who are not permitted to work after 10 at night or before 6 in the morning. She says legislation for the women workers is one of the needs of the country.

The president of the police at Hanover, Germany, has issued a decree warning women against the dangers of wearing long hats. He points out that several deplorable accidents have occurred recently from this cause, and announces that if in the future an accident occurs to another through a woman's hatpin she will be liable to arrest and prosecution for assault.

A young man is bringing an action against an astrologist. There are substantial damages. A practice relates to whom he was engaged to be married showed a specimen of his handwriting to the graphologist and asked for information. This is the reply she got. "If you should meet the man who wrote those lines upon your way through life avoid him. He is an egotist and a fool, has a bad temper and a despicable nature. The existence of the woman who has the misfortune to marry him will be a Calvary." The marriage has been broken off. Hence the action.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch of the Equal Suffrage society has announced that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, founder of the militant suffragette of England, is coming to the United States. She will begin her campaign under the auspices of the League for Self-Supporting Women in New York and a monster reception will be given in her honor at Carnegie Hall. She will have to go to jail sooner or later for personally petitioning the premier, but her punishment may be delayed until after her visit to the United States. Mrs. Mackay and Mrs. Blatch will work together, but Mrs. Mackay is regarded as a conservative, so she may not take part in the demonstration, but it remains to be seen what Mrs. Blatch may do.

Keeps Boyish Name

Pretty Girl Won't Change Error at Baptismal

TRENTON—Because "Edward James" is her baptismal name, one of the prettiest girls in this city intends to hold it for life. Her family name happens to be Casey, which may change in natural course, but to the name, the Rev. Father Scroth gave her, she will cling, as a gift of the church, with which she has no right to trifl even were she so disposed. This was her determination as a child, when her family and companions called her Mary. She then vetoed a proposition that the courts be invoked to change her name to that by which she is commonly known. Now, at the age of eighteen, she is no longer bothered with suggestions of a change.

She got the boy's name a few hours after birth. The physician who attended her mother declared that the baby could not live. Mrs. Joseph Henry, her grandmother, decided that there was no time to lose in christening her. The physician said she would die before a priest could arrive. Then Mrs. Henry swaddled her up and hastened with her to the parsonage of St. Peter and Paul's Church. Father Scroth met her at the door.

"The child is dying, Father," she said. "Please baptize him." "What name?" he asked, preparing to perform at once the baptismal act. "Edward James, Father," and the ceremony was completed forthwith. It was not until Mrs. Henry returned home with her charge that the sex of the child was noted. Mrs. Henry consulted with Father Scroth that no one had a right to undo what the church had done. For that reason she has always signed the baptismal name. She often has to explain why she does it, but that is an old story with her now, and she has come to consider the name a mark of distinction, of which to be proud rather than embarrassed.

Prohibitionists Protest Against Woman Barkeep

WINSTED, Conn., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Margaret L. Wheeler, who recently purchased the Commercial House in Bristol, petitioned the county commissioners to transfer the liquor license from the former owners of the hotel to herself.

Bristol prohibitionists have filed a remonstrance against her application, alleging "that said business is not a suitable business for a woman to engage in; that by the acts of the Legislatures of 1907 and 1908 statutes have been enacted creating penalties for any woman who may loiter in a saloon, and by implication these statutes prohibit the granting of a license for a woman to engage in the liquor business."

Having so cowed Capt. Walsh thought it safe to call Mrs. Kilne upstairs from the sitting room, where the noise seemed to come, they threw open the door, and all four jeweled pistols at the man who stood there. Confronted, he made no attempt at resistance. When Capt. Walsh told him to throw up his hands he did so at once.

When the Captain told him not to make a sound to warn his confederates the man was speechless.

Having so cowed Capt. Walsh thought it safe to call Mrs. Kilne upstairs from the sitting room. After much assurance from the police that there was no danger she went up and advanced timidly to the sitting room door. When Capt. Walsh told her to open the door she rushed to his arms.

He was her husband. He also had decided to go uptown to see that everything was right in the house.

Teacher Influences Boy; She's Enjoined

DETROIT, Mich.—Ernest D. Sheeve, a Brownstown township farmer, has obtained an injunction from the Circuit Court, restraining Lilly Burden, 23 years old, a school teacher at Flat Rock last year, from interfering in any way with Sheeve's 17-year-old son.

In his petition for an injunction, the parent said the teacher last year told him his son was dull. In order to assist him in his school work the instructor taught the boy after hours.

It is alleged she gained considerable influence over him, and this was detrimental to the boy.

The father said he had learned of the teacher's attention, but too late to prevent the lad skipping to a farm near Mount Clemens, where Miss Burden persisted in visiting him.

Later he sent his son to a farm in Pennsylvania, and then brought him home, but Miss Burden still persisted in her overtures.

Her little highness, Princess Louise of Germany, is to be introduced to society some time this month. It is reported, and will be the target for all the princesses in Europe looking for royal brides, says a writer. She has been carefully brought up, is a sweet tempered little girl, and, no doubt, will be first choice wherever a bride is sought by matchmaking politicians eager for a German alliance, as most of them naturally would be.

Clarence Gates has joined his brother at North Park and the two have gone on a deer hunt.

The opening meeting of the Culture Club was held at the home of Mrs. O. C. Voss, on Merriman street, this afternoon. The club is composed of an interesting group of women who have taken up an original work, meeting every fortnight at the homes of the members for an interesting program.

SAFETY PINS UNITE TWINS

KANSAS CITY.—Woman's ingenuity was manifested by Mrs. E. P. Morris of Chillicothe upon her arrival here with her three-year-old twins, Ben and Eddie.

Carrying a baby in her left arm and a gun in her right, with Ben's club held in her pocket for wandering. So that she could not have to watch Eddie while traveling she concealed the idea of pinning his clothes to Ben.

tracted no little attention as they passed through the Union depot yesterday. They were on their way home a few weeks in Kansas.

Ben, his mother said, has a habit of clinging to her clothes, while Eddie is a habitual wanderer. So that she could not have to watch Eddie while traveling she concealed the idea of pinning his clothes to Ben.

That she had often told him that she showed his face at home again unless he was brought to the house on a stretcher dead.

That she "acted like a decapitated hen," rolled and kicked on the sidewalk, screaming and shrieking to create public sympathy for herself, and accidentally to humiliate her husband, on one occasion, when she followed him down the street while he was on his way to work.

That she threw potatoes at his head when she became angry at him during meals.

That she buried their only child to the floor whenever she became angry.

That she told him he did not know how to eat lamb chops decently.

That she used his face for a cuspidor. That she did not behave properly while at meals.

Besides these charges, Cook asserts that his wife refused to prepare his meals for him and that on numerous occasions he was compelled to go to bed hungry.

On another occasion, he claims, he narrowly escaped serious injury when Mrs. Cook hurled a heavy silver cakestand at his head when he had inadvertently made some remark which had aroused her anger.

Among Cook's charges are the following:

That Mrs. Cook annoyed him when he was in the bathtub and once brandished a revolver and threatened to kill him after he had thrown his slippers at her to drive her from the bathroom.

That she had often told him that she hated him and wished he would never be born.

At times he attempted to prepare his own meals, but was compelled to do so on account of the abuse hurled at him by his wife.

And not only this, Cook says, but she slapped his face when she felt so disposed, broke crockery and glassware.

Might be the last!

—Winthrop.

THE END

It is the lute, the same poor lute,
Why do you turn away?

Tomorrow let its chords be mute,
But they must sound today.

The bark is maimed, the seamen throng
Arbund the breaking mast.

Lady, you heard my first love-song—
Hear now my last!

Sigh not!—I knew the star must set.

I knew the rose must fade;

And if I never can forget,

I never will upbraid:

Where'er my lot is cast,

And if my sad words make you sad,

Might be my last!

No more, no more, oh! never more

Will look or tone of mine

Bring clouds that ivy forebode o'er,

Or dim that dark eye's shine;

Look out, dear lady, from your tower;

The wave rolls deep and vast—

Oh, would to God this bitter hour

Might be the last!

PROTEST HOLDS UP GRANTING OF FRANCHISE FOR RAILROAD ALONG FRANKLIN STREET

SOUTHERN PACIFIC SHOWS LARGE NUMBER OF SIGNERS

After Hearing Arguments City Councilmen Postpone Action for Week to Look Up Legal Points.

FURTHER consideration of the application of the Southern Pacific railroad to run electric cars on Franklin street, from Fourteenth street to Twenty-ninth, was put over by the City Council at a meeting last night for one week for final action.

The railroad company showed that it had secured the signature of property owners for 3501 feet on the thoroughfare in favor of the franchise.

The protestants showed that they had signatures of people representing 1694 feet, and among these were some of the people who had originally signed the railroad application.

Seeks Legal Opinion

Councilman Elliot asked City Attorney Stetson for a legal opinion as to whether or not those who had signed the original application could be allowed to withdraw from the first application and join with the protestants.

The city attorney stated he was not prepared to give an opinion on the subject at once and asked for further time.

There was a large attendance of people interested in the matter and the Council, after considerable discussion among the members and by those interested, adjourned a consideration of the proposition for one week.

In the meantime City Attorney Stetson will render a decision.

Consider Franchise

At the meeting of the City Council last night consideration was given to the application which has been brought before that body for a franchise for the South Pacific Coast Railway to run electric cars on Franklin street from Fourteenth street northerly to a point a few feet beyond Twenty-ninth street. The proposed line is to be an extension of what is known as the old "narrow gauge" local line of the Southern Pacific in this city.

The representatives of the railroad company showed that they had secured the signatures of the property owners of 3501 feet on the thoroughfare in favor of the project. The total feet frontage on the street for which the franchise is asked is 4084 feet, and, as a consequence, the proponents of the franchise claimed they had secured the consent of more than two-thirds of the property owners to the project, which is one of the requirements of the charter.

On the other hand, protestants showed that there was signed to the protest the names of people representing abouting property to the extent of 1694 feet and among these protestants were some people who had signed the original application and who, it was said, desired to withdraw from that application, the alleged withdrawal representing a frontage of 115 feet.

Withdraw Signatures

The city attorney was asked by Councilman Elliot if those who had signed the original application could be allowed to withdraw from the same and to come in on a protest against the granting of something for which they had previously asked, but City Attorney Stetson stated that he was not prepared to give an opinion on the subject at the time.

The representatives of the railroad company then expressed a desire to have the ordinance bearing on the subject introduced, on the ground that there would be a saving of time and that the introduction did not necessarily mean that the ordinance had to be passed.

Matter Held Up

Some councilmen apparently took that view of the situation, but, on motion of Councilman Ellsworth, the whole matter was continued for one week for the purpose of getting the opinion of the city attorney as to whether or not people who had signed the original application had a right to withdraw from the same and come before the Council in a protest against a granting of the franchise for which they had previously petitioned.

Ellsworth said that until that fact had been determined the Council could not know whether it had or had not jurisdiction in the premises. Ellsworth's motion prevailed by a vote of seven to one.

Big Crowds There

The lobby of the Council chamber was filled with people, not a few of whom were ladies, nearly all of the latter being residents on the street in question. Some of these were in favor of the protest, while some of them were in favor of the granting of the franchise. The best of good feeling prevailed and notwithstanding that there were radical views expressed on each side there was not a disconcerting word spoken throughout the discussion.

Protest is Read

The matter was brought up by the reading by City Clerk Thompson of the protest against the granting of the franchise which was shown by the filing of two documents said to have been filed by the people said to be residents of Franklin street along which the proposed franchise was to extend and one by H. C. McPike, setting forth the manner in which the signatures had been secured.

The two documents signed by the protestants were designated respectively by the letters "A" and "B". The first of these ran as follows:

"OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 23, 1909. To the Honorable The City Council of the City of Oakland, Sirs: The undersigned property owners, owning real property having the frontage on Franklin street set opposite our respective signatures thereto hereby withdraw from the petition filed herein before your honorable body by the owners of land upon these parts of Franklin street designated and described in the said petition and the petition of the South Pacific Coast Railway Company filed at or about the same time, by virtue of which it is sought to have your honorable body grant a franchise in said Franklin street, for fifty years to said South Pacific Coast Railway Company, and no longer, do decline to sign," said petition or either of them considered as being based on any request or consent by us or either of us to the granting of such franchise, and we now hereby announce that we are opposed to the granting of such franchise. And we now hereby announce that we are opposed to the granting of the same."

L. R. Webster, 50 feet.

Thomas S. Williams, 65 feet.

nothing had been proved in the matter. Snook then stated that Mr. Jones had qualified as to the signatures to the protest:

Ellsworth suggested that testimony be taken as to the signatures to the application and the protest. "If," he continued, "the petition is not signed by two-thirds of the property owners, we have no authority whatever in the premises. If it is not signed by that number of people, that settles it."

Attorney Allen said that as the signatures had been attached to the petition some time before it was not pertinent at this time to say that the signing was not their purpose at that time. He did not care, he said, to quote the charter.

President Pendleton said he would request the city attorney to remain in the presence of the council. The latter produced the city charter and, from it, read a part of "Section 30," to the effect that it became the duty of the council to grant a franchise when a request therefor was signed by two-thirds of the people owning property abutting on the street in question. The council should refer the matter to a committee and the presumption was that the committee acted in a legal manner. He thought that proof of the signatures was weak, insomuch as they were as legal as were the signatures to the protest as far as the withdrawals from the petition were concerned.

PLAN BIG TIME FOR COLLEGE ANNIVERSARY

U. C. Alumni Will Join in Celebrating Fiftieth Birthday

DATE OF FESTIVITIES SET FOR MAY 10, 1910

Some Notable Yale Graduate Will Be Asked to Make the Address

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—The fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of California will be observed with a monster celebration in which the alumni of all of the fifty classes are expected to participate. The date of the celebration has been set for May 10, 1910. The charter of the university was not granted until 1868, but the College of California, which was established in 1850, is considered as the real beginning of the State University. Preparations for the celebration are already under way.

The committee of one hundred, whose acting chairman is E. V. Cowell, '96, will hold its first meeting in the latter part of September.

Yale Man to Speak

The faculty committee, whose chairman is Professor W. C. Jones, '75, has decided that, since the University owes many of its ideals and much of its form of organization to Yale, that some notable Yale graduate should be secured to make the most prominent address. They are considering the possibility of deriving a pageant in which the history of the university, and possibly something of the early history of California, will be worked out in a literary form and presented with appropriate music and drama.

The secretaries of all the classes in the Association of Class Secretaries have agreed that a reunion of every class should be held at that time. They are preparing letters to their classmates, asking them to be present at the reunion. From every section of the country these secretaries and the alumni secretary are receiving letters showing the general interest of all the graduates.

DEBATING SOCIETY TO HOLD FIRST SESSION

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—The Senate Debating society will meet tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in room 113, California Hall. Among those who will address the meeting are Professor H. A. Overstreet and Max Thelen.

The following are the officers and committees of the society:

President, A. Savage '10, vice-president, B. A. Wilson '09; secretary, G. C. Jensen '11; executive committee—M. A. Albee '10 and Charles Kasch '11; membership committee—Charles Robertson '10, O. L. Brauer '10 and R. P. Wise '12.

present and that he could tell what action was taken by the Native Sons' party regarding the signature of the application for the Franklin street franchise.

Elliot again asked if Snook was prepared to say that there were any signatures to the application which were not authorized to be signed to the same.

Snook stated that he was not prepared and that he did not think it was up to him to determine whether or not the burden of proof of the validity of the signatures was upon the other side.

City Attorney Setson was then asked if he was prepared to pass upon the question of the right of persons who had signed the original application to withdraw from the same, and replied that he was not at that moment.

Allen wanted to know why, when the city attorney was looking up the matter, the ordinance granting the franchise could not be introduced.

Snook objected, stating that the ordinance should not be introduced until these matters had been settled.

Allen declared he could see no reason why the ordinance should not be introduced.

Urge Postponement

President Pendleton said that he thought the matter could be continued for a week with advantage to both sides. Elliot wanted to know whether the city attorney had not acted inordinately and had not introduced the ordinance if it saw fit not to select the same.

The city attorney said that he would suggest that the whole matter lie over until he could inform himself on the subject.

Mr. Burke objecting to any postponement of action on the ordinance voiced his protest in these words:

"It is often a difficult task to consider this matter and there is a continuance for thirty days, that will mean sixty days before the ordinance can be finally passed. Whereas it should all be concluded in thirty days, if it was regularly presented tonight."

Opposes Delay

"The Southern Pacific has been working for a long time on this proposition, and they now desire to close up on all these things and get these electric lines going as soon as possible. Of course we do not want to prejudice anybody's rights. The Council is not bound by the introduction of this ordinance, but if they do have it introduced, it will save us much time."

"But the city attorney can decide this question by next Monday night," put in Judge Snook.

"I hope to, yes," declared that official.

McPike said that the people had some rights in the matter. If the ordinance should be introduced now, in the thirty days before it could be passed, would begin to run against the protestants. If the ordinance was to be introduced they proposed to attack it.

Might Consider It

He did not want to know how this ordinance was different from any other ordinance the Council could act upon, unless it had an ordinance before it which set forth what was asked for by the railroad company. He was not afraid to introduce an ordinance on any subject if the ordinance was intended with good faith to accomplish something for the city which should be accomplished.

Youthful Playwright Is on Her Way Home From Old London

MISS GLADYS WILSON, Youthful Playwright, Now on Way Home From London.

BERKELEY, Aug. 21.—Following close upon the announcement of renewed activity in the dramatic field among the students of the University of California comes the news that Miss Gladys Wilson, Berkeley's youthful playwright is homeward bound from London. On her return it is expected that she will write a play for production by one of the university dramatic clubs.

Although but fifteen years old, little Miss Wilson has achieved more than local renown as a dramatist, and last year she demonstrated no mean ability as a stage manager in staging one of her own plays.

PROF. HOWISON IS HONORED IN GERMANY

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—Dr. George Holmes Howison, Mills Professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy, represented the University of California at the recent celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of the University of Leipzig.

Professor Howison arrived at Leipzig just before the opening of the celebration on July 27, and the following evening he attended an informal dinner at the delegates in the great Augusteum of the University. The following two days were taken up with the chief ceremonies.

Professor Howison was accorded all the attention and honors that could be expected. He was one of the three hundred out of three thousand who were invited to the royal dinner, and at the dinner he was presented to the King by himself. He was presented to the King by Dr. B. M. Kelley, Mills' classmate of the football team, who is the only one eligible for junior president and his election is conceded. Prof. H. H. Krueger and Nella Hamilton are the nominees. One of the following contestants will be elected: G. A. Haines, Miss Louise Howard, H. D. Mills and W. A. O'Kelly.

The two boys are visiting an uncle, John Melvin, a rancher, and he has loaned them a 22-caliber rifle with which to go hunting. In some manner the rifle went while pointed in the direction of Wooten and he received a bullet in the right leg. It was extracted without trouble, however, and no serious results will ensue.

TAYLOR EULOGIZED BY STUDENT BODY

President Wheeler Pays Glowing Tribute to Former U. C. Coach

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—Memorial services were held yesterday on California Field in honor of the late Oscar N. Taylor '94. As a testimony of the affection they had borne the former coach, a large portion of the student body assembled at the first bleacher rally of the term to listen to the addresses of President Whelan and S. W. Cunningham '10, president of the A. S. U. C. Both paid high tribute to the services Dr. Taylor had rendered California, the latter reviewing these in detail from the time Dr. Taylor entered college.

Following Cunningham, President Whelan said in part:

"We are glad to have had Oscar Taylor with us. The community is a better one for his presence, the spirit over athletes is better, every man with whom he came in contact is a better man. Dr. Taylor was a great teacher in his quiet, strong way, strong in his patient work."

After many other words of glowing tribute the memorial closed with the appeal: "And now that the time has come when you shall gather in the laurels of victory, I beg you to go and lay them on the grave of Oscar Taylor."

SUSPECTED MEN PROWL ON ISLAND CITY STREET

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—Disturbed and frightened by two shabbily dressed men who were prowling along the avenue slinking up and down, Mrs. H. D. Gill of 200 Central avenue last night sought the protection of the police.

One of the men was described as being dark-skinned, with a dark complexion and wearing a slouch coat.

His companion was small and very dark. He had a black mustache and a short, stumpy beard, and wore a black derby hat.

Patrolman Hague was detailed on the case, but after thoroughly scouring the neighborhood, reported that no such men could be found.

Ellsworth moved that the matter be considered for a week.

A vote was then taken on the issue, and seven of the members voted in favor of a week's continuance as against those opposed to it. Two of the Councilmen failed to vote and one Councilman was absent.

Accordingly the matter was put over until next Monday night.

WEBSTER STREET CLOSED FOR NEW IMPROVEMENTS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—City Engineer J. N. Chapman is preparing to stake off Webster street, preparatory to the work to be commenced on the improvement of the east side of the road by the Panama-Crumbey Co. on September 1. The work of macadamizing the road will be completed about the first of November.

STORY FUNERAL IS HELD FROM NEVER RESIDENCE

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—The funeral of Dr. W. C. Chapman Story was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence of C. H. Wever, 2221 Central avenue.

The Rev. Clarence Reed conducted the funeral services. Many beautiful tributes affected the number of friends of the deceased, many of whom were present at the last rites. The body was interred in the Oakland Cemetery.

COUNTY SCHOOLS FORM SUB-LEAGUE

Alameda, Oakland and Fruitvale Heights Enter A. A. L. of California

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—A sub-league of the Academic Athletic League of California has been formed in Alameda county by the board of managers of the A. A. L. and a constitution and by-laws have been drawn up that will be ratified at a meeting of the A. A. L. on Wednesday, September 1st.

This sub-league is an integral part of the A. A. L. of California, and will be governed by its constitution and by-laws, and shall pass no legislation in conflict with the constitution of the larger athletic association.

The Alameda high school has agreed to accept the provisions of the sub-league as have also Oakland Polytechnic High, Fruitvale High and California College.

AGE LIMIT 21 Years

The age limit for entrance into the sub-league is under 21 years. Athletes cannot be identified with the organization for more than four years.

The qualifications as an athlete must necessitate that student must pass a standard acceptable to the principal of his school.

The governing board of the sub-league will consist of an executive body of two representatives from each school affiliated with the league. One delegate must be student and the other a faculty member of the school.

The officers will consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer and an A. A. L. delegate. They will serve one year.

Meet Twice a Year

The executive board must meet at least twice a year. There shall be representation on the A. A. L. board of managers consisting of two delegates. The president of the sub-league shall be a delegate ex officio.

The meeting of the A. A. L. when the constitution of the sub-league will be ratified will be held at the local high school, which was instrumental in having the sub-league formed.

JUNIORS VOTE FOR CLASS OFFICERS

Charles W. Pauly Will Be Elected President Without Opposition

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—The junior class is holding an election for the purpose of choosing a secretary, a tail leader and an auditing committee for the fall semester. The election will be held at the College of the City of Berkeley, on the 27th instant.

The voting places for secretary are Miss Leah Stafford and Miss Ruth Robinson.

For tail leader, F. H. Krueger and Nella Hamilton are the nominees. One of the following candidates will be elected: G. A. Haines, Miss Louise Howard, H. D. Mills and W. A. O'Kelly.

The two boys are visiting an uncle, John Melvin, a rancher, and he has loaned them a 22-caliber rifle with which to go hunting.

In some manner the rifle went while pointed in the direction of Wooten and he received a bullet in the right leg. It was extracted without trouble, however, and no serious results will ensue.

BOYS TAKE RIFLE; ONE IS WOUNDED

Rancher Loans Nephews Gun to go Hunting, With Usual Results

HAYWARD, Aug. 24.—Arva Wooten, 12 years old, was accidentally shot yesterday morning by a playmate, Herbert Melvin.

The two boys are visiting an uncle, John Melvin, a rancher, and he has loaned them a 22-caliber rifle with which to go hunting.

In some manner the rifle went while pointed in the direction of Wooten and he received a bullet in the right leg. It was extracted without trouble, however, and no serious results will ensue.

CONTEST IS ON FOR NEW SONG AND YELL

BERKELEY, Aug. 24.—The Rally Committee has announced the opening of the song and yell contest for this year.

The contest is open to all students and close at 4:30 p. m. Monday September 20. No wall was accepted last year, as none was judged to be good enough. R. N. Fitch '09 was the composer of last year's prize song, "Our Sturdy Golden Bear."

The conditions of the contest are:

Any student or graduate of the University of California is eligible to compete.

One or more songs or yell may be submitted by any one contestant.

Each song and each yell shall be inclosed in a sealed envelope bearing an identifying mark; and in another sealed envelope bearing the same identifying mark shall be placed a card bearing the author's name.

MILITARY BARN DANCE STIRS SOCIAL INTEREST

ALAMEDA, Aug. 24.—The barn dance to be given by Company C at Armory Hall next Friday evening is attracting considerable attention and bids fair to draw a large crowd.

Great interest has been manifested over the coming dance by the friends of the National Guard company and a jolly time is anticipated by those who attend.

Dancing will follow the program.

The show, which is given for the benefit of athletics, is expected to be a big success.

The high school students and their friends are interested in the performance and a financial success is predicted.

BUCKED OFF HORSE AND SKULL BROKEN

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 24.—Tony Silvra is today being treated for a fractured skull as the result of being thrown from a horse. Silvra was breaking horses on the Cullen ranch and yesterday morning mounted a young Oregon horse.

He had been bitten in the animal's buck and fell to the ground when the horse threw him to the ground.

SHIP SUBSIDY IS PROMISED BY VISITING CONGRESSMEN

Junketing Solons Inspect Water Front and Shipping Facilities and Pledge Support for Measure.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Subsidy for our American merchant marine was promised by the merchants of San Francisco last evening by A. J. Barchfield, congressman from Pennsylvania, and chairman of the house committee on the merchant marine. Speaking at the banquet given last evening by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association and the Merchants' Exchange, in the colonial ballroom at the St. Francis hotel, to the members of 23 congressmen bound to Honolulu as guests of the Hawaiian Chamber of Commerce, Barchfield declared that at the next session of Congress provision would be made for the subsidy.

"The time has arrived," said Barchfield, "the people are not only aroused, but are absolutely alive to needs of the merchant marine. They will insist that the sixty-first congress write on the statute books a ship subsidy, which will produce a merchant marine of which no citizen need be ashamed. What this measure does will have far-reaching effects, built in American yards of American material by American ship-builders, manned by American sailors and flying the American flag. We will either do it right or not at all."

Veterans Makes Hit

While noted public speakers held the floor last evening at the banquet, including men experienced in the arts of after dinner oratory, it was a venerable ship owner, Captain Robert Dollar of that city who, by his crude force, his terse illustrations and his ready wit, made the greatest hit of the evening. Dollar made a deep impression on his hearers. He spoke of the development of China and advised the merchants to turn their attention to that empire. The next morning he was joined to China for its railroad enterprises gave the audience a right to sell supplies for the road. "We talk of China waking up," he said, "but it is the American merchant who must be waking up in regard to the China trade."

Women Fill Boxes

The banquet was unique in the history of the congressional functions of this city in that, when the speaking began and women of the congressional party and women of the California Club filled the house, the wall of the oratory, balcony and sat throughout that oratory.

During the course of the feast the women of the congressional party were given a reception in the room of the California Club, the taproom of the St. Francis.

Two hundred guests and members of the community gathered at the luncheon. The hall was lavishly decorated with American flags, the banner of the diners would have fly at the peak of full sail if continued to the roof. Captain James N. McNease, was the chairman of the congressional Committee and concluded by inviting the delegation to the Portola festival.

Charles F. Scott, of Kansas, chairman of the congressional Committee on agriculture, congratulated San Francisco first on its wonderful recovery from the disaster. He referred affectionately to the part the town played in the disaster, and the relief work after the disaster and the reference was greeted with loud cheers. He spoke encouragingly of the development of the merchant marine. He explained that American shipping had been put into internal development.

To Help California

In a speech that sparkled at times with witty allusion and again was tinged with sentiment, Congressman Bækkelgård said the people of San Francisco and the nation were here but when the others would come those who are unlike us, not of our flesh and blood, then we must shut the door of hope.

Congressman Taylor, of the city's delegation, the disaster had pledged himself to aid California whenever called upon in the halls of Congress.

BEALL STILL LEADS THE COASTERS IN BATTING

TRIBUNE LEAGUE DIRECTORS DECIDE TO TRANSFER GAMES SCHEDULED IN ALAMEDA TO OAKLAND GROUNDS

Zinggs to Play Rutleys at Freeman's Park Immediately After the Coast League Contest; Double-Header in the Afternoon; Heesemans to Go to Fruitvale

No more games will be played at Freeman's Park, Alameda, this season, so the Tribune Amateur Base Ball League, which was the decision arrived at during a meeting of the league directors last night at the Reliance Club, 10th and 11th streets, the principal city grounds will be transferred to Oakland, the directors feeling that in the change it will be more advantageous to the clubs to go to the fans who want to see the games.

Following the idea inaugurated at the meeting of Sunday, immediately preceding the one of Saturday, the members of the Zinggs and Rutleys clubs, who are scheduled for the morning game, will be confined by 11 o'clock and will be on the field with their bats and gloves as soon as the St. Louis and Veterans, too, have their breakfast meal. The clubs are determined to wrench enough time from the afternoon to get the best of the afternoon games, and the fashion the "Coasters" series had been in last Sunday. Several new lads will appear in the lineup to strengthen the ranks, having been added to the Zinggs, who are 482 to 496, including their team with both talent, and in consequence a good game can be looked for.

Double Header

The contest will be a sort of appetizer to the double-bill that is bill'd for 2 o'clock. In addition, the Brunettes and Myers' doctored teams, the Bellmores and the Lennharts and Tribunes, opposing each other in the second, H. D. Drake and J. Merant; Heesemans, F. H. Drake and J. Merant; Heesemans, F. H. Drake and J. Merant; Bellmores, W. V. Van Horne, Bellmores, W. K. Keeler, Tribunes, Archie Lewis; Zinggs, T. Creagh and Dr. J. W. Creagh.

Spokane Club Threatens To Join the Outlaw Ranks

Ellis, Heitmuller and Arellanes Are 'Starring'

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 24.—"We will again be right up or one of the strongest outlaw associations," says the club in this section," announces Joseph John, president of the Spokane Baseball Club. "That is practically the united decision of the northwest. We paid good money for McLaughlin, but can neither get the man nor keep him playing from another organization, and this is all the good we get for our money, we can do better at home. We will go to the National Association this year to get something from them or tell them we are through with organized baseball."

Century Club Getting Ready for Busy Season

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 24.—At the end of the second (600 yards) stage of the National Rifle Team match, which opened yesterday morning on the 200 target, with forty-eight teams competing for the national trophy, the United States Navy is ahead, with 104, but Massachusetts is crowding hard with 103, and Pennsylvania with 101. On the 200-yard shot, which opened the match, the Navy had, easily pushed by the Annapolis cadets, while at 600 yards, the New York team, which came here with only about a week's practice at Sea Girt, tied the Navy for high score and pulled up from ninth to third place.

Steps toward arranging with Canada for an international meet next month at Sea Girt have been taken by the Association of Riflemen, which held a meeting here last night.

O'BRIEN AND KAUFMAN MAY SOON BE MATCHED

COFFROTH WILL TRY TO SIGN QUAKER WITH THE BIG BLACKSMITH TODAY

West Oakland Club Will Show Two New Faces in the Bouts of Tomorrow Night--Ketchel Sends Father Away Happy

By EDDIE SMITH.

PASS MR. JACK JOHNSON for awhile in the matchmaking line, for at the present time it does not seem that Coffroth will be able to get him on in a bout with Kaufman or O'Brien. You ask why? Well, one reason is that he is automobile crazy and the other is that he wants all the money. Mr. Coffroth got busy after having a conference with Johnson yesterday and at midnight he had come to an understanding with Jack O'Brien and Al Kaufman that will, in all probability, lead them into a scrap at the Coffroth arena on the 9th of next month.

The men agreed on most everything last evening except the division of the purse money and a few other trifles that in all probability will be settled today at a meeting in which Coffroth and the principals are to meet. O'Brien agreed that the men should fight with the rules reading that a man could hit with one arm free in the clinches—which, when properly interpreted, means that so long as one hand is free in the clinches that the fighter can bang away with it for the head or body. Jack suggested that the men agreed to break at the order of the referee and that the men must step back when so ordered. This rule was evidently injected into the articles by the Quaker for the purpose of taking some of the handicap of Kaufman's weight away from him. The big fellow could easily tire the smaller man out if he insisted on O'Brien pushing him away every time they clinched.

Kaufman Logical Challenger

Kaufman is the only heavyweight in the game at the present time, barring Jeffries, who has a chance with Jack Johnson, and as the belief is growing every day that Jeffries will not fight, naturally the fans look toward Kaufman. Al has a clean record, with the exception of a knock-out at the hands of Jack O'Brien, and it is in hope of wiping this defeat out of the list that he will tackle the shifty confessor.

Kaufman, to be taken seriously by the fans in a match with Johnson, must put O'Brien away for the count and he must do so in a clean-cut style. If Kaufman should put the shifty O'Brien out in a few rounds he will be given credit for it and it would prove a booster to his contest with Johnson, which must come, sooner or later.

O'Brien stood Johnson off for six rounds at Philadelphia until his papers had cleared him of his stand. For that reason if no other Kaufman will try to put him away before the sixth round if the men meet. That Jack fears Kaufman little is evidenced through the fact that he has said that the purse money shall be cut 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser or 60 and 40 per cent whichever way suits Kaufman.

"Dexterous" Jim has stuck by his guns firmly in his endeavor to give O'Brien a chance here and in doing so he realizes that O'Brien will receive some severe roasting by the press. O'Brien has done many things in the ring that are very shady and he made a sensational confession some three years ago in San Francisco that started the pugilistic world. Since that O'Brien claims that he has done the right thing by the public and that he wants one more chance in San Francisco to show the fans here that he is not as bad as has been painted.

West Oakland Card

Besides the carding good ten-round main event between Terry Keller and Fred Brooks that the West Oakland Club has secured for its boxing show of Thursday night, two new faces will be seen in the ring and it is confidently expected by the club management that both will prove a new star for the followers of the short-distance scappers.

Young Kenny is one of the new comers and if he lives up to the reputation he has in the east he will prove some fighter. Kenny is not a knocker out, but he is very clever and one of the boys who are very hard to beat. Four years ago the writer saw him box Abe Attell in a round at Philadelphia and he certainly held his own every inch of the going.

What improvement Kenny has made since that time I do not know and it may just be that he is not as good as he was in those days, but his record of fights would make one believe that he will prove fast enough to outbox Willie Purcell, who will outweigh him by at least five pounds.

The writer's weight does not prevent him from making a difference in Kenny, however, for he has boxed some of the big fellows of his class like Willie Fitzgerald and has been able to pull through without taking the count. Kenny has fought such men as Mattie Baldwin, Abe Attell, Leach Cross and Willie Fitzgerald, most of his bouts have been the no-holds-barred type of demolition but the fact that he has been a hard fighter for so long would make it appear as if he made good or the fans would not have cared to see him in action. Purcell we all know, is an honest hard working fighter with a world of confidence and platoons of strength, but with about as much cleverness, that is possessed by a blow mule. Willie wins his contests by taking all the other fellow has and then coming on with a dash for a win.

O'Connor a New One

The second new face to be seen will be Jim O'Connor who is on the bills for a battle with Ed Carter. O'Connor has been fighting in Alaska and little else. Johnson listened attentively to the proposition of the actor and then suggested that the pair get together some time in the future when things were more settled. Stockwell agreed to this and the men will meet Thursday or Friday to settle whether or not Jack Johnson will play Uncle Tom. In the mean time Johnson has agreed to fight Jim Barry or Jack Burns for Tom McCarey during the month of September.

Ketchel Remains Here

There seems to be something mysterious about the proposed Langford-Ketchel contest at New York for Ketchel-Britt are still in San Francisco and when asked as to when they expect to leave for the Gotham city smile and answer "in a few days." Well, for a few days there is no telling for they have been leaving in a few days for the past two weeks. There is something wrong about that Ketchel-Langford match and that is the reason why Britt Ketchel is not leaving for the East, what the trouble is they will not say but certain their actions indicate something wrong.

What might ever be said about Stanley Ketchel there is one thing that stands out stronger than anything else and that is his kindness to his people. Stanley yesterday handed his father $3500 with the advice that he go back to Michigan and live himself a little farm where he can live on his own.

Ketchel had his father and brother with him at the St. Francis Hotel for the past few months and as neither of the visitors have ever been on the inside of such a place before the visit to San Francisco has been both dazzling and wonderful.

Expect McLoughlin to Win the Championship

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—William J. Clothier, the ex-national champion, is being pitted for the Washington championship by his old master and will doubtless improve under Jennings' coaching. But according to baseball sharpshooter, the Tigers will have to brace up for pitching department if they are going to win another American League pennant.

It looks as if Manager Jennings has made a clever move in trading Second Baseman Schaefer for DeLebanty, who has been playing first ball for the Washington club. DeLebanty is a high-class hitter and will doubtless improve under Jennings' coaching. But according to baseball sharpshooter, the Tigers will have to brace up for pitching department if they are going to win another American League pennant.

Catcher Fisher does not belong to Portland and Cleveland McCready has hopes of having him next year, and is now corresponding with Boston for Tom Hughes.

The report is out that the veteran Jim Coffey will return to Boston next year as manager of the Doves. Jimmy McGinnity, ex-Giant and present Newark magnate, had a narrow escape the other day when he fought the Grand Rapids club and the Grand Rapids crowd declared baseball a nuisance and sold nine, and in 1904 he captured the same number and lost six.

He has fallen behind the Cub speed this spring and Frank Chance sent him to Toronto. He couldn't show the team and he dropped out. He is now pitching independent ball in and around Chicago. Lundgren was a college star. He created a furor by his work for the University of Illinois, which he entered in 1888, with Jake Stahl at the other end of the battery. He signed with the Cubs in 1902.

Jesse Tannehill

Tannehill broke into fast company in 1898, with the Richmond Club. The first year he was there he pitched a no-hitter against the Roanoke, and the other day as was taken out because he was not good enough.

Catcher Fisher does not belong to Portland and Cleveland McCready has hopes of having him next year, and is now corresponding with Boston for Tom Hughes.

He gave Griffith cause to lament the swap, as it was largely by his great work that Boston got its second pennant in that year. Tannehill won twenty-one games, lost eleven and tied one.

Washington let Tannehill out several weeks ago. He was tagged for the American Association, but he refused to go down the league ladder. He has announced that he will pitch independent ball. His bankroll not wizened and he can worry along without swinging his salary arm. He is 31 years old.

Tom Hughes

The great year of Tom Hughes, just shipped to the American Association, by Cantillon, was when he pitched the Boston Americans to the first pennant for their first year in 1893. He was the American batters' bane.

Fred Clarke, the Pittsburgh chief, says that when the time comes for old Sam Leever to go he will be allowed to select his next stopping place.

Catalina Fish Story—True? Certainly It Is

AVALON, Catalina Island, Aug. 24.—Two new world's records for light-boat angling were established here yesterday. C. C. Conn, of Elkhart, Ind., landed three fish, the largest of which weighed 129 pounds, being brought to gaff in ten minutes. C. Brode held the record, made three days ago, with a 126-pound tune, brought to gaff in fifteen minutes.

The other record was made by B. A. Atterbury of Pasadena, who caught a black sea bass weighing 270 pounds.

This struggle lasted two hours and twenty minutes, and the angler was compelled to bring the monster fish to the surface eight times before it could be gaffed.

May Sutton Easily Defeats Miss Keith

NIAGARA ON THE LAKE, Aug. 24.—The All Canadian and International lawn tennis tournament began here yesterday on the grass courts of the Niagara golf and tennis club. The entry to date is 228. Summaries:

International ladies' open singles—Miss May Stotan of Pasadena, Cal., beat Miss Keith, Toronto, 6—1, 6—0.

Miss Beard, Cleveland, beat Miss Hunt, Toronto, 6—1, 6—1.

Mrs. Hazmann, Toronto, beat Miss Fairburn, Toronto, 6—1, 6—0.

MORAN-DRISCOLL BOUT OFF.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Owen Moran, the English featherweight, has called off his proposed bout with Jim Driscol. He gave as his reason for this action that the delay caused in arranging the bout would not give him time to train properly for the fight.

BERKELEY FOSSESS LOSE.

By a score of 5 to 3 the Lillies defeated the South Berkeley Merchants in this city Sunday. The winners will meet the Senate men on the Fort Miley Diamond next Sunday afternoon.

INVADERS TO PLAY THE FRESCOITES FOR FIRST PLACE

Tigers Lose but Once So Far in the Second Half

An interesting series is promised this week in the State leagues at Grove park. The invaders will take on the Fresno Tigers in their first game being played on Tuesday at 2:15 o'clock. What will make the fight particularly interesting is the fact that both are starting for first place, with the reigning eastern in the lead at present. By Moore's tossers feel convinced that they can humble the visitors and for this purpose have engaged Benny Henderson to do the twirling on Thursday. He will be opposed by Loucks. Oscar Jones will have Friday. In connection with Jones a peculiar incident may be mentioned. So far this season he has been very unsuccessful against Oaklawn and has lost every game but one against Stockton. He is invincible and has yet to meet his first defeat in the second half.

The Fresno Tigers are playing a high brand of ball at present and have only lost one series in the second half, and that to the Sacramento club.

Manager McDonough brought his warriors to the Grove street park they took the measure of the invaders, getting four out of six in the series.

"Doc" Moskiman, who is in great form, will be on the mound Friday and as he has been successful against the Tigers in the past, it is believed that he will duplicate his other performances. Nealon, Sheehan, McFalls, Hap Smith and the others are also playing the game of their lives.

Every baseball season sees the decline of some great ones of the diamond. This season has been noteworthy because of the number of once-great pitchers who have been stamped as passed in the fast set.

Jack Chesbro, Carl Lundgren, Nick Altrock, Jesse Tannehill and Tom Hughes are on a traded him to Washington the same season for Al Orth.

Lundgren is 36 years old. He started as a pitcher with the Omaha club in 1904. The Chicago Nationals appeared him that fall and he was with them until 1905, when Baltimore secured him. Boston paid him the same year. He has a few wins of first-class minor league ball left, and he has a hope of making the majors anxious to call him back next season.

Handsome "Nick" Altrock

Nick Altrock was shipped to Canton to Minneapolis last month. He was in the middle of the fight with the White Sox in 1906, when they gutted the pennant and annexed the baseball world by taking the world's championship.

Altrock is of the centaur class. He was a passenger on the stock express in '76, stopping place, Cincinnati. His baseball debut was in 1888, with the Grand Rapids club, in the Interstate League. Two years later Syracuse won the pennant and annexed the baseball world by taking the world's championship.

In 1890 Altrock pitched in 140 games. He won twenty of them and tied

one. Altrock is not all in, but his work with the White Sox in 1906 was excellent. He reached the New York American Association in 1907, and the Yankees got him. In 1908 he was with the Browns and Los Angeles. The Milwaukee club got him in 1909, and Boston bought him in 1910. Collins let him go and signed Vossroy, leaving a valuable bunch, bought him in 1909.

ST. MARY'S ADDS FOUR TO FACULTY

Changes Announced Among College Teachers for Coming Scholastic Year

The faculty of St. Mary's College for the coming scholastic year was officially announced yesterday. Due to the continued growth of the college an addition of four members to the actual teaching force was declared necessary.

Brother Bernard F. S. C., E. S. C., who has been absent for a year on leave, will resume charge of the engineering departments when college opens on September 1st.

The most notable acquisition to the faculty is that of Brother Michael, F. S. C., late director of St. Joseph's Academy, Berkeley, who because of his ability in the direction of finances, becomes business manager of St. Mary's to succeed the late Brother Sabinlin, who occupied this position for nearly half a century.

List of Faculty

Following is the complete faculty list for 1909-1910:

The Rev. Brother McLeson, F. S. C.

The Rev. Brother Bartholomew, U. S. C., first vice-president, professor of philosophy and ancient languages.

The Rev. Brother Leo, F. S. C., second vice-president, professor of molding engineering and mechanics.

The Rev. Brother Joseph, F. S. C., professor of mathematics and astronomy.

The Rev. Brother Bernard, F. S. C., head of engineering departments.

The Rev. Brother Alfred, F. S. C., professor of mathematics and physics.

The Rev. Brother Leander, F. S. C., professor of chemistry and physics.

The Rev. Brother Dominic, F. S. C., professor of English literature and Latin.

The Rev. Brother Cornelius, F. S. C., professor of German and French; assistant in Latin.

The Rev. Brother Stephen, F. S. C., professor of French and physical research.

The Rev. Brother Thibert, F. S. C., head of the department of commerce.

The Rev. Brother Alford, F. S. C., assistant in commerce.

The Rev. Brother Vincent, F. S. C., assistant in Spanish; director of first academic year.

The Rev. Brother Gabriel, F. S. C., assistant in English and French; director of second academic year.

The Rev. Brother Nichols, F. S. C., assistant in Latin and Greek; director third academic year.

The Rev. Brother Hyacinth, F. S. C., phonography and typewriting.

The Rev. Brother Michael, F. S. C., business administration.

The Rev. Brother Valerius, F. S. C., religion.

The Rev. Brother Ananias, F. S. C., assistant prefect.

The Rev. Brother Thibert, F. S. C., procurator librarian.

Charles L. Baender, C. E., professor of civil engineering.

John B. Quinlan, assistant in English and French.

Anthony Adalit, A. M., professor Spanish and other modern languages.

William J. McCormick, A. M., assistant in German, Latin and Greek.

Frederick Schopf, professor of vocal and instrumental music.

William J. McCormick, A. M., professor of vocal and botany.

John L. Donnan, N. B., bookkeeping, William Hollingshead, N. B., canon in modern languages and Greek.

Otto Ritter, physical director.

BROADWAY PLAY IS LONG LAUGH

"Are You a Mason" Keeps Audience in Uproar Through-out Evening

For a continuous performance in the way of laughter see "Are You a Mason?" at the Broadway theater this week. It starts merrily, reaches a very gale of laughter before the first act is two minutes under way and keeps it up until the last curtain falls.

The farce proved a mighty success at its initial production last night, as it did all it is intended to do—amuse. But amuse is a very mild word with which to describe the uproar it caused. It is good fun, with nothing of the slap-stick order about it. Just clean, keen wit everyone enjoys.

Four New Players

The performance was made notable by the introduction of four new members of the Broadway troupe, Miss Anita Murray, the new soubrette, Miss Marie Flanagan, Miss Anna Rogers and Miss Bath Andrea. All are good additions to the local company.

The story is of two men, who, to explain their wives why they are out late, say that they are Masons and are attending a meeting. Mrs. Stevens plays the part of George Perry, son-in-law to the other pretender, Amos Bloodgood, a part particularly well taken by Charles H. Clement, who usually plays the hero, who, despite many trials triumphing along with virtue, appears to good advantage in a purely comedy role.

Between the acts there was displayed a most remarkable series of moving pictures. They represent a scene of the Pacific Coast at Santa Barbara. First there was a scene of the Japanese army maneuvering, then the troops on American soil. One of the most realistic scenes is of a battery of big guns firing. The pictures end amid the cheers of the audience.

Leading Women

Miss Cooper and Miss Woodthorpe play the leading women.

PINS COME FROM ARM; GIRL DOES NOT KNOW WHERE SHE GOT THEM

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A few days ago a bent and headless pin was taken from the arm of Miss Adeline Wykoff, a young girl of Patchogue, N. J., and since then she has similar pins been extracted from the same arm.

Miss Wykoff has no idea how the pins came to be in her body, and her parents believe that when she was a little child she probably swallowed them, unknown to other members of the family and that they are just now working themselves out.

MUST WAIT MONTH; WANTS DIVORCE QUICK

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21.—Grace Van St. John, a young woman, went to Clayton, county seat of St. Louis county, yesterday in an automobile with Mr. Lyman T. Hay, Mrs. Harriet Cushing, a man whose name could not be learned, and Clarence Campbell, Mrs. Van St. John's neighbor. After making inquiries at the courthouse Mrs. Van St.

dorf discovered she could not get a decree before the next term of court in September. It is said she will endeavor to have the case brought before Trial Judge Wurdeleman by getting her husband to agree.

DISAGREES WITH JURY'S VERDICT

Young Bowles a Suicide, Says
Coroner—Murdered, Declares Father

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 24.—A verdict of suicide was returned last night in the case of Walter Lee Bowles, the Lick graduate found dead on the marshes near Novato, by a coroner's jury. The father, Scott Bowles, the Petaluma hardwareman, who declared it a case of murder, was not present.

The verdict returned by Foreman J. H. Clark was death from a self-inflicted pistol wound in the head for "causes unknown." Coroner F. E. Sawyer took the evidence of William Stif, who found the body Sunday, and other witnesses. Lack of motive either for robbery or murder, the fact that the pistol belonged to the father, the burning of private papers just before the shot was fired, and the appearance of the body, which showed no signs of violence or of a struggle all tended to substantiate the suicide theory.

Murder, He Says

Scott Bowles, the father, said today: "This calamity has unnerved my wife and myself. They say it was suicide, but we believe the boy was enticed to his death, and whoever killed him made the case look like suicide. There is one clue to which we are interested. A family living next to the Bowles home, where Walter boarded, state that their small boy saw two men run through the yard of the Yaomen house Sunday night, apparently chasing the other. The child ran back to his mother, telling her of the incident, and was greatly alarmed. The mother investigated and heard the Yaomen gate slam, but could see no one."

"The pistol which killed my son is lost to me now, but I cannot identify it. Two years ago I had a pistol and gave it to Walter when he went on a trip in the mountains. I have never seen it since."

Young Bowles owned an automobile and took young girl friends out, but had no love affair, so far as we can be learned.

—The New South

Addressess of welcome were made by President J. E. Chilberg and other ex-position officials, and then the Governor of Florida was introduced as the orator of the day. Governor Gilchrist said in part:

"What means this phrase we hear. 'The New South.' It is associated with the hum of machinery, the movement of busy hands and quickly moving feet. Some people have an idea that the South is lazy, indolent, sleepy. The South has more, it stands giant, but it sleeps no more."

Rapid Increase

Governor Gilchrist cited statistics showing the material prosperity of the South, its rapid increase in wealth and population. He referred to his message of April, in which he named George Washington, Lincoln, and Abraham Lincoln, all Southerners, as the greatest men of America who has produced. The Governor paid a tribute to Lincoln, and continued:

"The office of Taxation is worthy the high office of Presidents of the United States. In a speech in Philadelphia, April 26, subscribed to and supported a division of the states of the South, so that there shall be ten states of the Union on one side, and that in their State governments there shall be more than our political creed to be subscribed to and supported."

Racial Question

He furthermore said: "I am quite confident that my motives are likely to be misconstrued and shall have attributed to me rather more political than patriotic desire."

"In this connection it would be well to remember that this racial question permeates our political affiliations. Instead of discussing the race question as it exists in the Southland, I will invite your attention to the race question in the Golden West with which you are familiar. I presume that there are none in California or elsewhere but who will start to regard the higher and better class of the orientals.

Makes a Comparison

—There has been some objection in California toward receiving an excessive number of this laboring element. It is needless for me to invite your attention to the various measures introduced in the Legislature of California during the past year. Consider the inclination of the feeling there, as judged by these proposed measures. Then suppose that there were enough of this element in that State to represent one-third to one-half of the voting strength of the State of California. Suppose then that with the combination of a few white men this element could control the election of practically every office within the gift of the people of California. Suppose this element would, as the negroes in the South, vote practically as a unit. Don't you suppose that the white people of California would combine as to preserve their very civilization? In such case don't you suppose that those people would consider it in a little different light than 'patriotic desire'?"

Act as Hostesses

The Robert E. Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, were hostesses during the afternoon in the Women's Building to the United Confederate Veterans, Daughters of the American Revolution, United Sons of Confederate Veterans, Daughters of Confederate Veterans, and all visitors from home and abroad.

Governor M. E. Hay of Washington and his staff came from Olympia to take part in the Southern celebration and a carload of San Joaquin watermelons were given away at the California building.

Southern Visitors

A large number of visitors from North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, West Virginia, Tennessee and vicinity, under the leadership of Professor Glenn A. Worthington of the University of Tennessee, arrived yesterday in a special train to take part in the exercises.

Tonight there will be a band concert in the natural amphitheater, the program to be entirely southern, and a reception and ball in the Washington State building will close the day.

Mr. Mills' Yoga class.—Second session this class will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at Pythian Castle. New members may be enrolled and Mr. Mills will give a resume of the first lesson.

A. S. Nisbatur, Batesville, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold so distressing that it interfered with my business; had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and the complexion did not reach my case, and I took various medicines which seemed only to aggravate it. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. Sold at Wishart's drug store, corner Tenth and Washington streets."

"DIXIE DAY" AT SEATTLE MADE GALA OCCASION

Great Gathering on Grounds and Receptions Are Held at All Headquarters

SEATTLE, Aug. 24.—Nearly all the Southerners in town, including all the travelers, took part in the celebration of Dixie Day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. There were speeches, singing, dancing, and all the bands played "Dixie" whenever they had a chance to tumultuous cheering. The United Confederate Veterans were banqueted at noon at the Hotel Colman with Governor Alfred W. Gilchrist of Florida.

At 2 o'clock the Southerners assembled in the natural amphitheater, where with much enthusiasm wearing his own State badge and national colors, he held informal receptions grouped under their respective State banners.
